

CNBC Report for 2018 Annual Convention Regional Ministries | Dwight Huffman

Thank you for the opportunity to serve alongside you to see a day when we have 1000 CNBC churches transforming lives across Canada.

All across Canada, we are investing in pastors in four key areas in 2018: Refresh, Equip, Send, and Relational Networks.

In Alberta, we are on track to provide opportunities in all four of our strategic areas in 2018. We are seeing pastors and their families refreshed and equipped, and fewer pastors feeling isolated and alone in ministry. I look forward to seeing how God will continue to use these four purposes to enrich and challenge the pastors in Southern Alberta.

Richard Horner was not able to follow through as the regional ministry leader for Northern Alberta due to health reasons. For the foreseeable future, I will partner with the transition team in that region to provide opportunities for pastors to be refreshed, equipped, networked, and to go on mission outside their area of ministry. Steve Fish continues to lead Saskatchewan as our regional ministry leader there. Rod Giesbrecht is coming on as our regional ministry leader for Manitoba. Derek Jones continues to effectively lead the churches in Atlantic Canada.
