

First Steps Preview

If you're working with a new Christian, First Steps is a great resource. We promise it will answer questions and motivate your friend to start growing spiritually. It's vital to start feeding a new Christian –your task as a spiritual parent, to feed, feed, feed. First Steps is designed for this purpose.

First Steps has five studies to get a new Christian started, including:

- #1: What's your purpose?
- #2: What's the gospel?
- #3: What's baptism about?
- #4: What's my story? And
- #5: After Baptism, what then?

The studies are interactive. As a DiscipleMaker, you get to share your own insights as well. It's such a privilege to bond this way, as you teach them insights about their new life in Christ!

How to use First Steps? Adjust it to your schedules. Perhaps do one a week, reading and discussing it together. You can go through them more quickly, as time and motivation permit. For sure, be enthusiastic as you share them. Let your joy infect them, to start growing.

When you're done, consider the six part series, Following Jesus, also in Believer → Additional Resources. Or begin to work the Believer → Disciple Storyline, with the Head, Heart and Hands studies. There's 18 of them, lots of content for your new Christian. If that's not enough, there are dozens of helps in Believer → Additional Resources. Check them out and ask the Spirit's guidance, what to use.

Great discipling ahead. Remember your work as a DiscipleMaker, Feed, Feed, Feed.

Paul Johnson
Stages designer
CNBC
pjohnson@cnbc.ca