

NEW DISCIPLE-MAKERS TEAM REPORT

Hamish Buntain

As many of you know, on April 16th of this current year, I began serving in a new role with the West-coast Baptist Association. The decision to move from the CNBC to the Association was not easy one for me. The reasons for this are many but can be briefly stated in the following ways: 1) I loved working with all of you; and 2) I loved working with our CNBC staff. You, and they, have been such a blessing to me but God made it very clear to me that it was His will that I make this change. Like you, I trust God's leadership, and so have aligned my life to His will. I am grateful to God for His guidance and look forward to this next chapter with the Westcoast Baptist Association.

Thank you for the privilege of serving you these past 12 plus years. You have always treated me with kindness and grace. Your willingness to share your lives with me has touched me and in our encounters God has taught me much. Your desire to see our nation come to know Christ and be transformed by Him has inspired me. And your willingness to persevere under some difficult situations has given me evidence that God has not abandoned the peoples of Canada to their own desires. So again, thank you.

I also want to thank our staff. Their lives and their faithfulness to the mission God has given us have been used by God to make me a better man and leader. I love them each and know that it was God's favour that allowed me to serve you with them. I am so pleased that Paul Johnson will take over as the Team Leader for New Disciple-Makers. His passion to see people not only become disciples but become disciple-makers is unequalled.

Again, thank you. You continue to be in my heart and prayers. May God grant us His wisdom and power as together we continue to bear witness to Jesus until all of Canada hears the good news of His gospel.

With the love Christ
